

HISTORY BACHELOR OF ARTS

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
SPRINGFIELD

ONLINE

The History Program encourages students to compare elements of their own culture with those of other cultures from other time periods to gain a sense of what is unique in, as well as generally characteristic of, individuals, groups, and national cultures. By examining the link between the past and the contemporary world, students can understand themselves and the times in which they live. The History Program at the University of Illinois Springfield offers students a wide range of courses, a highly qualified faculty and class sizes that permit faculty to give students individual attention.
